What deductions can I claim as a freelancer?

As a freelancer, you can claim several deductions to reduce your taxable income. Here are some common deductions you may be eligible for, along with relevant IRS references:

1. Home Office Deduction

If you use part of your home exclusively and regularly for business, you can deduct expenses related to that space.

Simplified Method: $5 per square foot (up to 300 sq. ft., max $1,500).

Actual Expense Method: Deduct a percentage of rent, mortgage interest, utilities, insurance, and repairs based on the business-use percentage of your home. IRS Reference: Publication 587

2. Business Supplies & Equipment

Office supplies (paper, ink, pens, etc.)

Computers, software, and tech equipment (can be deducted in full in the year of purchase under Section 179 or via bonus depreciation).

Furniture (desks, chairs, etc.) IRS Reference: Publication 946

3. Internet & Phone Expenses

Deduct the business-use percentage of your internet and phone bills. IRS Reference: Publication 535

4. Travel & Vehicle Expenses

Mileage Deduction: $0.67 per mile (2024 rate) for business-related driving.

Actual Expense Method: Deduct gas, repairs, insurance, and depreciation (if you own the vehicle).

Travel Expenses: Flights, hotels, meals (50% deductible), and conference fees. IRS Reference: Publication 463

5. Meals & Entertainment (Limited)

Business meals with clients or prospects are 50% deductible if they are ordinary and necessary.

Entertainment expenses (e.g., concert tickets, sports events) are no longer deductible (post-2017 tax law). IRS Reference: Publication 463

6. Health Insurance Premiums

If you're self-employed and not eligible for an employer-sponsored plan, you can deduct 100% of health, dental, and long-term care insurance premiums for yourself, your spouse, and dependents. IRS Reference: Publication 535

7. Retirement Contributions

Solo 401(k): Up to $69,000 (2024) if you're under 50, or $76,500 if 50+.
